

Circus show

Synopsis

It is a show that uses humour as a starting point where the absurd, the comedy and eccentricity play a most important role to show the diverse abilities of a passionate, mocking and full of energy character.

Using a provocative tone and somehow a certain degree of madness, the show is carried out employing everyday objects playing with the limits of gravity'. Taking advantage of the Street language as a means of communication with the public the show flows visually shockingly and full of freshness.
